Using Skype on your iPad

If you don't have Skype on your iPad already, search for "Skype for iPad Free" in "App Store" and download it. As with all downloads from the App Store, you may be asked for your Apple PASSWORD.

To create your new Skype account use an existing email address. Use one that you check regularly and have convenient access to. Where/when prompted, you should also provide a mobile telephone number for 2-factor authentication – this adds security to your account.

Once downloaded onto your iPad, the "GET" button (next to the Skype app details) will change to say "OPEN". Tap this to create your new Skype account

4 You must respond to the email Skype sends you, to verify your account, and you must create a password, exclusive to Microsoft, and store it safely.

- If you see the person you want in the list, tap their name.
- You can invite someone to become a contact, or to join a conversation (you can chat with multiple people at the same time).
- As you search for someone, a list of 'good search matches' shows up in the top part of the search area.
- A green dot next to their name means you are already connected to them and they are currently signed in to Skype.
- Strangers are listed beneath, under "MORE PEOPLE". The word "live:" in front of a name tells you that they are using Skype right now.

NOTE: An invitation must be accepted before two people can connect through Skype. This prevents unsolicited contact and spam.
